Today's topic:

 Language varieties and reading education, part 1

Background:

 No reading assigned; see sources in slides for more information and background

0. Key points today

- Review: Language varieties
- Some differences among US English varieties
- Potential effects of "non-mainstream" varieties on reading education

1. Review: Mental grammar, language varieties

Group discussion

- What is meant by the term language variety?

1. Review: Mental grammar, language varieties

Review

- What is meant by the term language variety?
- Do all varieties have equal social status?
- Do all varieties have mental grammar and complex, systematic patterns?
- Varieties of the same language are also called dialects of that language

1. Review: Mental grammar, language varieties

Dialect Myths and Reality

(from Wolfram & Schilling-Estes (1998), via "Do You Speak American", PBS)

- See also: Lecture outline from Tu Jan 16
 - Section 3, Linguistics and mental grammar
 - Section 4, Linguistic diversity language varieties

Full class discussion

- Try this online dialect survey:
 Was your regional variety accurately diagnosed?
 - from PureWow
- Here's another (longer) dialect survey you can try later on your own for fun
 - from the New York Times

Varieties of English can differ in their...

- Varieties of English can differ in their...
 - pronunciation (phonology and phonetics)
 - vocabulary (lexicon: morphology, semantics)
 - "grammar" in the school sense
 - word forms (morphology)
 - phrase and sentence structure (syntax)
 - and other factors, including politeness strategies, conversation structure, etc.

- Which variety of American English is considered to be the "standard"?
 - Some discussions from
 - "Do You Speak American?" (PBS)
 - Wikipedia: General American English
- Terms used to refer to a standard / classroom / socially prestigious variety include:
 - Standard American English (SAE)
 - Mainstream American English (MAE)
 - Standard Classroom English (SCE)

Discussion

- What are some barriers to successfully learning to read that might face a student whose family speaks a language other than English at home?
- Consider a student whose family speaks a variety of English at home that can be classified as "nonmainstream American English (NMAE)"
 - How might this case be similar and different?

- Varieties of English can differ in their...
 - pronunciation (phonology and phonetics)

Which of these words rhyme with each other?

```
dog hog frog smog Ogg
log bog slog clog tog
```

Which of these words rhyme with each other?

- Some AmEng varieties have the same vowel in all of these words: [α] (olive)
- Varieties that have [α] (olive) in some words and [ɔ] (auburn) in others may differ by word
- What are some possible implications of phonetic or phonological differences for reading education?

- What are some possible implications of phonetic or phonological differences for reading education?
 - What happens if different MAE sound categories are pronounced the same in a NMAE variety?
 - What happens if two different sound categories are distributed among words differently in MAE and a NMAE variety?
 - What if (some) kids in a classroom don't speak the same variety as their teacher?
 - Other potential implications?

- Varieties of English can differ in their...
 - vocabulary (lexicon: morphology, semantics)

- Consider this sentence:
 The cake was quite good.
 - How good was the cake?

Consider this sentence:

The cake was quite good.

How good was the cake?

MAE: Really pretty good

British English: Somewhat good

Your variety: ???

 What are some possible implications of vocabulary differences for reading education?

- Varieties of English can differ in their...
 - "grammar" in the school sense
 - word forms (morphology)
 - phrase and sentence structure (syntax)

```
    Try this - "A-Prefixing: Quiz!"
        (based on Wolfram (1993),
        via "Do You Speak American", PBS)
```

- Examples from African American English (AAE)
 - Also known as African American Language (AAL),
 Black English, Black English Vernacular (BEV)
- Experiment: 35 AAE-speaking 5th graders in Baltimore
 Which of these sentences did they consider acceptable?

They usually be tired when they come home
They be tired right now
When we play basketball, she be on my team
The girl in the picture be my sister
James be coming to school right now
James always be coming to school
My ankle be broken from the fall
Sometimes my ears be itching

- Experiment: 35 AAE-speaking 5th graders in Baltimore
 Which of these sentences did they consider acceptable?
 - 32 They usually be tired when they come home
 - 3 They be tired right now
 - 31 When we play basketball, she be on my team
 - 4 The girl in the picture be my sister
 - 4 James be coming to school right now
 - 31 James always be coming to school
 - 3 My ankle be broken from the fall
 - 32 Sometimes my ears be itching
- What is the AAE rule for using this form of be?

Data from Reaser & Wolfram (2007), NC 8th grade dialects curriculum

 What are some possible implications of word-form and sentence-structure differences for reading education?

→ We will return to this topic in more depth next time

- N. Terry & Scarborough (2011) summarize past studies showing a "literacy gap" for speakers of:
 - Australian Aboriginal English
 - Hawaiian Creole
 - non-standard varieties in Sweden, Norway,
 Greece, and the Netherlands

A US achievement gap (figure from Labov & Baker 2015)

Figure 33.1 Fourth-grade NAEP reading scores, by race, 1992-2011.

Source: NAEP 2011.

NAEP = National Assessment of Educational Progress

- Why are there achievement gaps in literacy for NMAE (or other NM variety) speakers?
 - → Complex question without clear answer(s)
- Social factors: History of discrimination leading to large differences in average socioeconomic status
 - Health, nutrition, safety
 - Home environment and resources for learning
 - Schools: teacher ratio, books, equipment, ...
- Linguistic factors: Children from non-MAEspeaking home environments are learning to read a different language variety

- Effect of student and teacher attitudes toward language variety on reading achievement (from Labov & Baker 2015)
 - "Considerable research has shown that children's nonstandard dialect has more influence on teachers' expectation of their performance than their writing skills, drawing skills, or appearance..."
 - "There is no doubt that negative attitudes toward nonstandard English can alienate AAVE speakers from the schooling process."

5. For next time

- Recent work by J.M. Terry (UNC!) et al. (2022)
 - "African American English speaking 2nd graders, verbal –s, and educational achievement: Event related potential and math study findings" [link]
 - Neurophysiological effects (ERPs):
 - Predictions, p 5
 - Results, p 15