Application for a Student Researcher Position
"Lexical Categories in Linguistic Theory" project • Spring 2004

Personal information

• Name: PID:

• Class year: freshman sophomore junior senior graduate other—(_____)

• Are you also submitting an application for the Research Assistant position? yes   no

Linguistics and language information

• Native language(s):

• Other languages you speak or have studied:

• Languages on which you have done linguistic analysis (beyond basic problem-set work in class):

• In what linguistic subfields have you had coursework, read widely, or done research projects?
    (i.e., semantics, language acquisition, phonology, …)

Topics of interest for the individual research project

• On a separate page, please answer these questions:
    ‣ What topic or topics are you most interested in pursuing if you join the research group?
    ‣ Have you done a paper or project in this area before?

> Notes: ‣ You may use one of the topic ideas suggested online, or design your own
>   ‣ Feel free to indicate more than one topic of interest
>   ‣ You may change your mind later — this is not a firm commitment
>   ‣ Prior research experience in the area of interest is not a requirement

• Is there any other information that you would like to provide?

Submit applications to:	Jennifer Smith (jlsmith@unc.edu) Dept. of Linguistics 322 Dey Hall, CB #3155 University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3155	Application deadline: • Applications received by November 10, 2003 will be given first priority • Applications may be submitted through January 31, 2004
For more information about the research project:	http://www.unc.edu/~jlsmith/lexcat.html	