

- Midterm information and review
- Case-study presentations:
General discussion and debriefing

0. Today's objectives

After today's class, you will:

- Understand the structure of the midterm exam
- Know what topics will be covered on the exam
- Have identified key background terms and concepts from your group's Kaplan chapter
- Have reflected on your experience with the group presentation and related assignments

1. Midterm exam information

- See Midterm exam information and review guide
 - Any questions about structure, content, expectations?

Feedback on coursework

- Presentation grading hopefully finalized Tues!
- Most (all?) of the remaining Prep Questions assignments will be released by Thurs noon
 - Feedback on those might be useful to view; email me with questions!

1. Midterm exam information

Each presentation group should open your GDoc and collaborate on the following [links on Daily Syllabus]

- List at least 5 key terms and concepts from your Kaplan chapter [not case-study section]
- Bold the terms in your list that you think are the most important background for the myth or for your group's own case-study presentation
- Highlight any terms in your list that you would like some review on before the midterm

I will edit the lists and post a review PDF for everyone

2. Debriefing

- Time permitting: Comments / questions / thoughts about the case-study presentation process?
 - Data graphic and RQ preview assignment
 - Case-study article proposal
 - Case-study presentation: Individual slides, slides revision, group presentation
 - Midterm exam questions
- Stay tuned for anonymous survey about the case-study presentation assignment process

3. Next time

- Some bonus and make-up presentations
- A chance to ask more about midterm review topics
- Looking ahead: Goals for the “novice” presentation assignment
